Novi: Hi, good morning?

Agriet: Hi, good morning! What is your name?

Novi: My name is Novi and you?

Agriet: Nice to meet you, Novi. My name is Agriet.

Novi: Nice to meet you too, Agriet. What are you doing here?

Agriet: I am looking for some book to read at home. How about you?

Novi: Actually, I am waiting for someone.

Novi: Oh there she is! Agriet let me introduce my friend, her name is Susan and Susan this is Agriet!

Susan: Hi!

Agriet: Hi!

Novi: Well, let me guide you guys because I come here often.

Agriet: Okay great!

Susan: Hey what is that? Could you describe it to me please?

Novi: Sure! That is a wireless devices, we can use it to look for the types of books that we will read. So, basically if we cannot find books that we want to read, we can type the title of the book or the author there and it will tell us where the book is. It will tell us either the book has been borrowed or just there.

Agriet: Wow! I think that's an amazing idea! Because we won't waste our time for looking books we want to read. Just type there and voila! you know where to get the book! Cool thing!

2. Buatlah satu dialog tentang 'Describing Things' dan satu dialog tentang 'Asking and Giving Advice and opinion' dengan tema Perpustakaan Nasional.

Wina : Hi Agriet, what are you doing?

Agriet : I'm reading some fiction books. How about you, Wina?

Wina : I'm looking for a novel to make synopsis.

Agriet : Have you found it?

Wina : Not yet.

Agriet : Why don't you ask the librarian?

Wina : Alright, thank for your advice.

Wina : By the way, What's your opinion about this library?

Agriet : This library has a huge collection of library books and have many representative room for reading book for a long time. Its like the National Library of Indonesia but in a small version.

Wina : Haha, oh, do you know about the National Library of Indonesia?

Agriet : Yes, of course, this National Library of Indonesia is the legal deposit library of Indonesia. It is located at Gambir, on the south side of Merdeka Square, Jakarta. It serves primarily as a humanities library alongside several others holding national responsibilities for science and agriculture. The new library building, which took almost three years to build, is 126.3 meters tall, and has 24 floors. It was planned in line with "green building" concepts. Membership cards and books are equipped with Radio-frequency identification devices for security and to monitor the inventory.

Wina : Wow, thanks for the information.

Agriet : You're welcome.
